Jordan is an attorney and avid equestrian. She focuses her practice in equine law, premises liability, business disputes and civil litigation, including personal injury.

While attending the Sandra Day O'Connor School of Law at Arizona State University, Jordan served as judicial extern for the Honorable Kent E. Cattani of the Arizona Court of Appeals, Division One and for the Honorable Daniel Kiley of the Maricopa County Superior Court. While in law school, she received her student practice certificate from the Arizona Supreme Court. Jordan was named a Trial Advocacy Fellow for completing a litigation-focused academic career at the Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law at Arizona State University.

Jordan is an avid horse enthusiast, rider and former reining competitor. She is the fundraising chairman for Horses Help, a therapeutic riding organization for children with disabilities. To learn more about Jordan's equine law practice, please contact her at 602.786.6459 or at Willette@LitchfieldCavo.com.
